I'm I just missing it? Is there a way to not be subscribed to a thread every time you post other then going in every time you post and unsubscribing?

When you post there is a small box below. They have it already marked to subscribe you to the thread. Click it to not be subscribed to the thread.

To unscribe, good luck, I been trying to unscribe form all I posted no luck yet.

let me check on that and see if I can make it default to not be checked! So if you want you have to check it and not have to check it every time you post. I have noticed it and my email is filling up way too fast. Some of these things are by default and we will not know it until it happens and then we will adjust accordingly. ... Sorry!

Turk, the subscription box should now be automatically unchecked by default now. I hope that works and if someone wants to subscribe they will have to check it. Maybe this will finally free up my email. :S
