
Feel free to help make site better!

I am currently adjusting and setting configurations! If you see something that you think needs adjusting or recommendations, please, feel free to let us know. This site is what I call a forum on steroids. It has many features that run as models and components on a master system.

This design is created to make the forum part of a website and not just a stand alone component. This allows us to implement integration with so many other components and features as you see to the left and sometimes to the right.

I do this for a living. I am a graphic specialist and web designer and developer. But that does not mean that I am not human and yet it does mean that your suggestions and ideas mean a lot to me, because we are family! The Original improved Hinigugma family - Now called MyHinigugma.
